An early morning fire on the morning of Thursday, August 18, completely destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Muennink at 1103 24th Street in Hondo. Firemen answered the early hour call but by the time they arrived the flames were out of control, as shown in the pictures below taken by Tony Mendoza. Destruction was complete as shown by the large photograph taken the following day by Joe Fohn. Origin of the fire is still undetermined according to Fire Chief Chas. Lutz. The Muennink children were not at home and Mr. and Mrs. Muennink had to leave the house by a window.

THAT'S ALL SHE WROTE

... or is it?

When Edna McDade covered her typewriter and moved to Corpus Christi for a well-deserved retirement, it brought a flood of memories back to me.

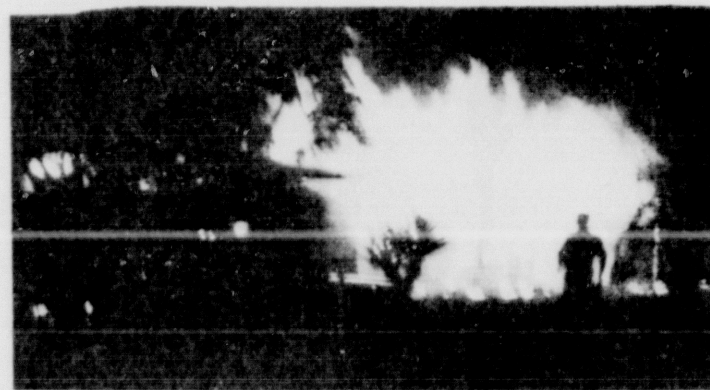

The Hondo Anvil Herald has been blessed with many talented people who have worked here and gone on to greener pastures or in some cases to entirely different occupations. But there was something unusual about "Sis". The "Sis" comes from the fact that she is a sister to Mrs. Lillian G. Brucks, who has also served as editor and publisher of the Anvil Herald. When I first met this talented lady, she was introduced as "Sis" by her younger sister, Sally.

Since Sis has always been a "do-gooder" in the finest and most appropriate sense of the word, she offered a few suggestions to me. One thing led to another and before long she was writing for the Anvil Herald. In 1962, when I became involved in the John Connally for Governor campaign she took over an ever-increasing load, and literally made it possible for me to be away during those crucial few weeks.

Perhaps the fact that she was a native of Laredo made her more interested than most in the subject of water. Through the editorial process and her own avid reading she was a great help to me in calling attention to many water problems. When I served the State on the Texas Water Commission, she offered many helpful suggestions.

One of my regrets is that she had ac-

Fire destroys Muennink home

An early morning fire Thursday, August 17, gutted the Donald Muennink home at 1103 24th St. in Hondo.

Firemen said the home was engulfed in flames when they arrived on the scene shortly before 2:30 a. m. They battled the blaze for three hours before bringing it under control.

Mr. and Mrs. Muennink managed to escape from the burning house through windows when flames cut their escape through doors.

Their children were at the home of their grandparents and were not in the house at the time of the fire.

The blaze is believed to have started in the car port area of the home.

The Muenninks were asleep at the far end of the house from the fire's origin.

The home and its contents were termed a total loss.

Museum gets gift

Imagine the surprise this week of Medina County Museum directors when they received a $97.14 gift that could well be classified as a "contribution out of the past."

Treasurer Mrs. Sally Brucks received a tiny handwritten note from Mrs. James Norman (Dorothy) Duncan of Kileen, in which the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Bohmfalk and daughter-in-law of Judge and Mrs. Jim Duncan said:

"Dear Aunt Lillian, "Perhaps this donation will buy a few buckets of paint for the Museum."

Accompanying Dorothy's note was a letter to the Museum explaining the contribution and at the same time bringing back old memories. This letter read:

"This money was contributed to a special fund by the personnel of the Flight Department and remained in a dormant bank account after the flight program ended at Hondo Air Base.

"It would be appreciated if you would send an acknowledgment of this donation to Mr. Ryan N. Whitten who served as the Director of Flying Training at Texas Aviation Industries, Inc.

Yours truly, Dorothy B. Duncan Secretary to Mr. Whitten at TAI

Old timey school

Olden days in the school room are recaptured in the new display of school items arranged at the Medina County Museum by Nora Winkler. Three youngsters sit in the old seats at the old desk with an old map on the wall. A brief history is given in the display to each school in Medina County. Play-acting as students, even before school starts, are left to right: Michael Mendoza, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Mendoza; Debbie Saathoff, daughter of Mrs. Stanley Saathoff; and Melanie Muennink, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Muennink. ## Hearings are set

State Representative John Poerner of Hondo, chairman of the Interim Study Committee on vegetable marketing in Texas, has set two hearings next week including one in this area. Poerner announced meetings would be held on Wednesday, August 30th, in the Hidalgo County Courthouse and on Friday, September 1st, at 10 a. m. in the Central Power and Light Company Auditorium at Uvalde.

All area vegetable growers are urged to attend the second hearing. Poerner will chair both meetings and will be assisted at Uvalde by area growers and shippers.

The meetings are being held in an effort to give growers, shippers and the public a chance to voice their opinion about vegetable imports and inferior products from Mexico. Poerner said the meetings are open to the public and the public is urged to attend.

Letters from the mailbox

Dear Mr. Lawrence:

The Texas Employment Commission looks on newspaper articles about its services as a primary vehicle in getting information about our agency and its services over to the many people our operations touch.

On behalf of the Texas Employment Commission, we would like to thank you for publishing in your newspaper the information about our programs and operations. You have been most generous and cooperative in this respect. Since we are not funded for paid advertising, we must utilize the good will of public service-oriented organizations such as yours to communicate with the citizenry.

We do appreciate your cooperation and ask for your continued support.

Sincerely yours,
Earnest C. Leake
District Director
(Editor's note: TEC sends a representative to Hondo each Tuesday. He is in the City Municipal Bldg., to assist persons seeking employment and employers seeking workers.)

Burnis,

Just a short comment on your editorial in this week's paper (Aug. 17). It was tremendous. I hope that all who read it think of their mothers as you think of yours.

It would be so wonderful if everyone would think about mothers love instead of hate and violence, for certainly no Christian Mother could ever teach her children to hate.

What a good feeling it is to have a mother and be able to tell her that you love her. Keep up the good editorials.

Your friend,
Jack Winkler

Letter to editor----

If you have space in the Herald it would be well to print some of this article about our trees.

I saw big oak trees sawed down to make a right-of-way for a telephone line on the Rothe land, when just some of the top limbs could have been taken away.

Mrs. Armin Rothe

The following is an article by Annalee Burns who writes for Uvalde Leader-News called "Around the Canyon".

"Thousands upon thousands of trees were removed to admit the road surface, and the eroding gravel will break havoc in nearby streams for some time to come. All in all, it is one of the worst highway gashes the Hill Country has suffered yet.

It is surprising that a road crew could have continued to, day after day, stab deeper into the beauty of the countryside. True, the laborers were only the tools of road planning people, but still they must have been disturbed by these warped concepts of "progress." The project must have been quite a challenge to actually complete, because it probably began as a mere flight of fantasy.

"If the planners and engineers are allowed to go to such lengths, then we will not have much left of the Texas Hill Country. Surely landowners and nearby communities have some power to preserve their countryside from attacks of highway madness. Land hereabouts is in more demand all the time, and the total land supply cannot be increased; why cover up any more acreage with asphalt?"

"Even if the town governments of Uvalde, Bandera, Leakey, Utopia, etc., banned together on the issue of roads, the State might be held off in this area. If not, the increasing network of roads may change our now rural environment to a kind of huge suburb of San Antonio."

Mailbox

"The following is a short article sent to ARC last week by William James, who is a columnist for the Lockhart paper. It is titled "Highway Madness".

"Some readers may not know of a road recently completed from Vanderpool to Leakey, the number of which, I believe, is 337. The twenty mile piece must have been meant as primarily a scenic or tourist route because it is too twisted for quick travel. Actually the hills in the area were quite scenic though somewhat inaccessible before the road was built.

There are very few stretches of the road that have not been blasted, bulldozed, or cut through the hillsides. So much earthmoving was required that the road could be one of the most expensive per mile strips of asphalt in the state. Maintenance, such as clearing rockslides and repairing flash flood damage should be comparably expensive."

Kazen in Washington

Important legislation to relieve victims of natural disasters, passed by the House last week and signed into law by the President, will have major benefits to many residents and businessmen in our congressional district.

As I had reported, the President had initially proposed special assistance to victims of Hurricane Agnes and South Dakota floods. I did not oppose help to people in Pennsylvania, Ohio and South Dakota but I wanted equal consideration for my constituents. We were able to have the bill changed to cover earlier disasters so that more favorable loan agreements will cover drought and flood loans last year and up to June 30 of next year. While we hope and pray that there will be no more disasters we have set a new pattern of government help until the middle of 1973.

The legislation also directs the President to develop improved plans for government aid on future disasters.

ADVICE TO BORROWERS

The new law will affect most Small Business Administration and Farmers Home Administration loans made under disaster declarations so that borrowers will do well to check benefits with the lending agencies. I want to outline the general provisions of the bill.

Provisions for changes in Small Business Administration loans vary slightly different, depending on the dates of disasters and subsequent official designation of disaster relief areas.

Any SBA loan made under a Presidential disaster declaration in 1971 will no longer require payment of the first $500. If such payment has been made, the borrower will get a refund from the Government. Loans made on SBA declarations will now get $2,500 forgiveness, and any borrower who has overpaid his loan on that basis will get a refund. Persons still paying on loans will get a more favorable interest rate through a reduction from the old figure of 5-1/8 percent to 3 percent. There is no provision for refunding past interest payments.

Different provisions affect disaster declarations from January 1, 1972 to June 30, 1973. There is provision for forgiveness of $5,000 per loan, with a new interest rate of 1 percent on loans over $5,000. If loans have been negotiated and already paid off, borrowers will get refunds.

The Congress added a new provision to the law to combat misuse of Government funds. We previously had criminal penalties for fraud but we added a legal right for the Government to use civil suits to recover up to 1-1/2 times the money involved.

The law also affects Farmers Home Administration loans in the same general pattern as the SBA changes except that the benefits only go back to June 30, 1971. The FHA is still studying the effects of the new law, and information will go out to district offices soon on refund, forgiveness and interest changes.

The Congress has begun a short recess so Republicans can attend their national convention. When we return after Labor Day, the House has some major unfinished business. Last week the President again vetoed the appropriations bill for the Departments of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare, voicing major objections to increased spending for social services. We therefore must try again on this major appropriation bill. We also voted new curbs on busing of school children, but there is no determination on whether the Senate and House versions will require much effort to agree on legislation.

I shall resume these reports when the Congress returns to session.

Information meeting set on adoption, foster care

A meeting will be held Thursday, August 31, 1972 at 7:30 p. m. at the Hondo City Hall for information about the adoption and foster care programs by the State Department of Public Welfare.

Homes are especially needed for older Mexican-American children in custody of the State Welfare. Some children need permanent families to adopt them. Adoptive families assume full legal and financial responsibility for adoptive children. Other children need temporary care with families under the foster care program. Foster parents may be able to receive a small monthly amount to cover the minimal costs for the foster child.

Certain requirements must be met before a family can adopt or provide foster care, but the requirements are not rigid. What children need most is the security and love of flexible and understanding parents. It is not necessary for families to own their own home or have a large income or savings account if they have the stability and other qualities children need for normal development.

All interested persons are invited to attend this public meeting on Thursday, August 31, at the Hondo City Hall at 7:30 p. m. There is no obligation for information. Refreshments will be served. For further information, call Mrs. Delma Tovar, Social Service Worker, at 426-2632, or Mrs. Patricia Lawrence, Regional Adoption Supervisor, at 426-3949, in the Medina County Courthouse in Hondo.

MCAEC sets Devine meeting

The Medina County Association for Exceptional Children will hold its first meeting of the 1972-73 year at Keller Park, Devine, Monday, August 28, at 7:30 p. m. This meeting will be combined with a covered dish supper. This year, 1972, marks the 10th anniversary of the organization, and plans will be made for special events to help celebrate the year's significance.

Barbara Bearmen-Michael Lott exchange wedding vows

Amid candles, flowers and white cages of doves, Miss Barbara Irene Bearmen and Michael Allen Lott exchanged their wedding vows at the First Baptist Church, Hondo, on August 12, 1972. Rev. James Reid, pastor, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Wendell G. Bearmen and the late Wendell Bearmen of Hondo. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lott of Houston.

Escorting the bride down the church aisle was Louis Singletary of Wellston, Oklahoma. Her gown was of imported silk organza, lavished with re-embroidered Alencon lace set on English net. Seed pearls and crystals adorned the centers of the lace flowers. The dress had a Victorian high neck, see-through sleeves with an empire waist. The A-line skirt was covered with lace flowers. The flowing train stemming from the back lace yoke of the gown was cathedral length. She carried a cascading bouquet of yellow roses and tinted baby mums.

Assisting the bride was her maid of honor, Miss Jilliana Summerall of La Marque; bridesmaids were Misses Linda Winn, La Marque; Nancy Been and Karen Mann of Hondo. Junior attendants were Lenora Reid of Hondo and Ann Brumfield, cousin of the bride, from Le Compte, Louisiana. Toy Winkler, Hondo, was flower girl.

The attendants wore identical dresses of melon and carried natural baskets of yellow and bronze mums and glads with sprigs of wheat.

Gary Lott, Houston, served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Danny Baca, Galena Park; Michael Leinweber and Bobby Wernett of Hondo. Gary Lott, Jr. was ring bearer. Sammy Nooner, Hondo, and Terry Leatherwood, Devine, were ushers.

The reception was held following the ceremony in Reid Fellowship Hall. The bride's table, covered with white organdy and lace cloth skirted with net, was layed with crystal and silver. A white birdcage decorated with flowers and a pair of doves flanked with candles formed the centerpiece.

Mrs. Louis Singletary, Wellston, Oklahoma, and Mrs. Gary Lott, Houston, served. Serving at their namesake's groom's table was Barbara Brumfield of Le Compte, La., and Gladys Irene Baca of Galena Park.

Mrs. Lott is a 1970 graduate of Hondo High School and will be a third-year nursing major at the University of Texas, San Antonio, this fall. Mr. Lott is a graduate of South Houston High School, Pasadena, attended Houston Baptist College, and currently is employed at Gary Air Craft, Hondo.

On their return from Hawaii, the couple will make their home at Dun Rooin Farm near Hondo.

Use care with cooking bags

By Gaye Bippert

Medina County Home Demonstration Agent

Plastic oven cooking bags can threaten kitchen safety as a fire hazard, according to the Food and Drug Administration, if home makers don't use them properly.

"Last February, the FDA announced reports of bursting oven bags," Mrs. Gaye Bippert, Medina County Extension Home Demonstration Agent, said. "The accidents were caused by a phenomenon called 'bumping'."

Mrs. Bippert explained that bumping occurs when a layer of water forms under a layer of fat that's seeping out of the meat or poultry being cooked. As the trapped water continues heating, it may reach and exceed its boiling point and converts into steam.

"When the steam becomes superheated," she continued, "it may break the bonds of the imprisoning fat and spew out with enough force to burst the bag. If fat carried along in the outburst hits a gas flame or electric heating element, it could cause a serious fire."

The home demonstration agent pointed out that you can prevent bumping. The FDA and manufacturers suggest coating the inside of the bag with a tablespoon of flour. Or use a sauce mix with a flour base to coat the bag.

"Most manufacturers instruct users to punch small air holes in the bag to inhibit sudden build-up of pressure," the agent noted. "And they suggest using a large, deep pan for an added margin of safety; the pan will contain juices that leak."

When early FDA reports described oven bags as a potential fire hazard, Mrs. Bippert said that some industry representatives blamed the rash of oven bag accidents on carelessness or inattention to instructions.

"Apparently, these representatives suspected that expanding air in bags not perforated with air holes were causing the accidents."

The FDA announced last May that manufacturers will begin providing additional package instructions to insure safe use of the bags.

"But since turnover in some stores may be slow," Mrs. Bippert added, "expect the old, inadequately labeled bags to keep cropping up for some time. Meanwhile, if you use such bags, remember to puncture with air holes, coat inside with a flour mixture, and use a pan to trap leaking juices."

"To get the most use from winter pastures, it's best to plant them early," advises Medina County Agricultural Agent, Glenn Bragg.

New research has shown that winter pastures can get off to a head start if planted early. Early plantings can take advantage of fall rainfall and other favorable growing conditions during August, September and October.

Fall armyworms and other insects may be a problem,

Sul Ross courses slated for Uvalde campus

Sul Ross State University will offer four education courses on the campus of Southwest Texas Jr. College in Uvalde, beginning with the fall semester.

The courses are Education 3301--Principles and Curriculum Development of Elementary Education, Monday nights at 7 p.m.; Education 4309--General Science for the Elementary Teacher, Tuesday 7 p.m.; Education 4310--Teaching Social Studies in the Grades, Wednesday at 7 p.m.; and 3303--Art for the Grades, Thursday at 7 p.m.

Registration for the above classes will be on Monday evening, August 28, at 7 p.m. in the Registrar's Office, Southwest Texas Jr. College. A representative from Sul Ross University will be present.

Plant winter pastures early

Bragg explains. There is no reason to wait until the danger of armyworms have passed as the "plus" factors for early plantings are greater than the cost of controlling the insects. The decision to plant early can mean extra dollars later in the season from increased livestock gains.

Small grains recommended for Medina County are as follows: WHEAT - Atlas 66 (for forage), Chaparral, Penjamo 62, Millam (for forage and/or grain); OATS - Coronado, Cortez, New Mortex, Suregrain.

New races of Crown rust and what leaf rust became prevalent in 1972. Florida 500 and 501 Oats are susceptible to these races of crown rust and Fox and Agent Wheat are susceptible to the wheat leaf rust. These varieties previously had a high degree of resistance, but they are no longer recommended for Medina County.

Some new, more winter hardy triticales (a wheat Rye Cross) have been developed and they are available for planting. In most tests, the triticales have not produced as much forage as the better wheat and rye varieties.

Longhorn Band travels to Peru, says Star

You might call it "Drum-beat Diplomacy" but, whatever you call it, The University of Texas Longhorn Band's recent visit to Peru was remarkably successful.

In a delightful article next Sunday in the Texas Star magazine, Tom Goltz describes how goodwill permeated the atmosphere as the Band drew crowds everywhere it went. The Band's music probably did more to promote the "Good Neighbor Policy" than anything in years.

Another feature in the Sunday supplement focuses on Dallas oil man and big game hunter Herb Klein. After nearly three decades of setting unbelievable, if not unbeatable, records, Klein is retiring as the world's most famous hunter with a reputation that may never be equalled.

Shish-Kabobs have become popular during the past few years for outdoor cooking and Star Hostess Mary Faulk Kooch describes a variety of meats and vegetables that can be combined. She points out that Shish-Kabobs can help create festive Labor Day dining indoors or out.

Star Editor Jimmy Banks comments that youth may have its own 'silent majority' composed of sensible young people who are willing to gain a little experience before solving all the world's problems.

Social Security News

If you will need a new social security card within the next six weeks, apply for it now, says Roy L. Swift, social security district manager in San Antonio.

Although new social security cards have been issued by local social security offices for many years, that procedure has been changed, he explained.

Social security's computer operation in Baltimore, Maryland, began issuing original social security cards on a limited basis this summer. All new social security cards should be issued by computer beginning sometime in August, he added.

"During the early months, this will cause some delay in receiving the cards," Swift said. "The computer operation at this phase requires about six weeks from the time the application is made until the new card is received."

Students needing a card for registration and for college entrance examinations, particularly need to remember to apply early, he cautioned.

"Duplicate cards, however, can still be obtained promptly from your local social security office," Swift added. "If you have the stub to your old card or are receiving social security benefits."

Applications for social security cards are available free at your local social security office and at the post office in towns not having a social security office.

For further information, see your social security representative when he is in your area.

Your representative, Mrs. Fry, will be in Hondo at City Hall at 8:45 a.m. Monday, August 28th.

Services held for D'Hanis native

Funeral services were held Saturday, August 19, at 1:00 for Mr. Henry Joseph Zuercher, 81, who passed away at Wrights Nursing Home in San Antonio on August 16, 1972.

Mr. Zuercher was born August 30, 1890 in D'Hanis, son of the late Leopold and Carolina (Wipff) Zuercher. A member of the Catholic faith he worked during his younger years hauling clay for the D'Hanis brickyard with teams of horses and wagon until the brickyard installed tracks upon which a train took over. In 1911, his mother and father sold their ranchland southeast of D'Hanis and turned over the farm and their home to their daughter, Annie, and her husband, Fred Durbon. In turn, they bought the Cross S Hotel at Crystal City and operated it for many years where Mr. Zuercher stayed only for several months.

He then involved himself in shoaling at the Commercial Business College in the Alamo City in order to further a business education. This enabled Mr. Zuercher to secure a job at the Brunswick Balke Calendar Company in San Antonio doing general business work. Mr. S. F. Houser greatly appreciated his work and gave Mr. Zuercher a fine recommendation for honest and faithful duties carried out.

Mr. Zuercher advanced to the Street and Electric Railway Company of San Antonio and worked there until he bought a ranch of size to please him northeast of Boerne and ranched there until he retired and moved back to San Antonio.

Surviving

Surviving Mr. Zuercher are three sisters, Theresa Harris of Arizona, Hallie Foster of Crystal City and Clara Taft of Jackson, Michigan; and one brother, Paul W. Zuercher of San Antonio.

The services were held at Holy Cross Catholic Church, Rev. Victor Schmidtzyński officiating. Interment was in Holy Cross Cemetery, D'Hanis.

Rosary was recited at 8 p. m. Tuesday, August 15, at Holy Cross Church. Serving as pallbearers were Darrell G. Rinfroe, Fred Durbon, Ottenold Durbon, Frank J. Fohn, E. W. Sarhis, and C. Atkins, Jr.

Arrangements were handled by Guinn-Horger Funeral Home of Hondo.

Un-official Weather

Doc Taylor handed in another out-on-a-limb prediction Wednesday morning, which goes like this:

"More showers are due Wednesday and Thursday (August 23-24) and probably again on the 26th.

"On the basis of our prediction, George Koch has been busy for several days sprigging coastal bermuda."

Since this is Thursday, if it didn't rain yesterday, it'll rain today or day after tomorrow. But why no rain on the 25th? Probably has to do with bermuda grass.

Scrimmage set Friday night

The Owls will hold a controlled scrimmage tomorrow evening, August 25, at 7:30 p. m. at Barry Field, against Southside High School of San Antonio. No admission will be charged for the scrimmage.

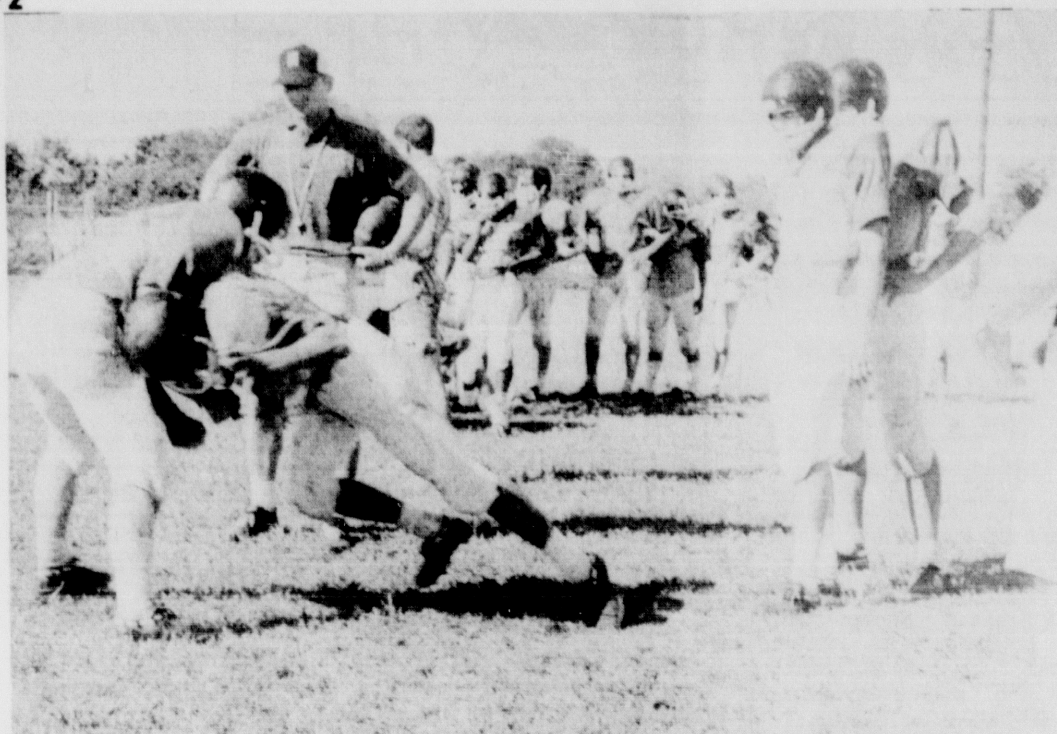

Southside, of neighboring district 27-AA, is picked in Dave Campbell's "Texas Football" magazine to finish among the top 3 in a district which includes Boerne and Randolph High Schools, after finishing the 1971 season with a 4-6 record.

They should prove amply whether the Owls have learned their pre-season lessons well enough thus far.

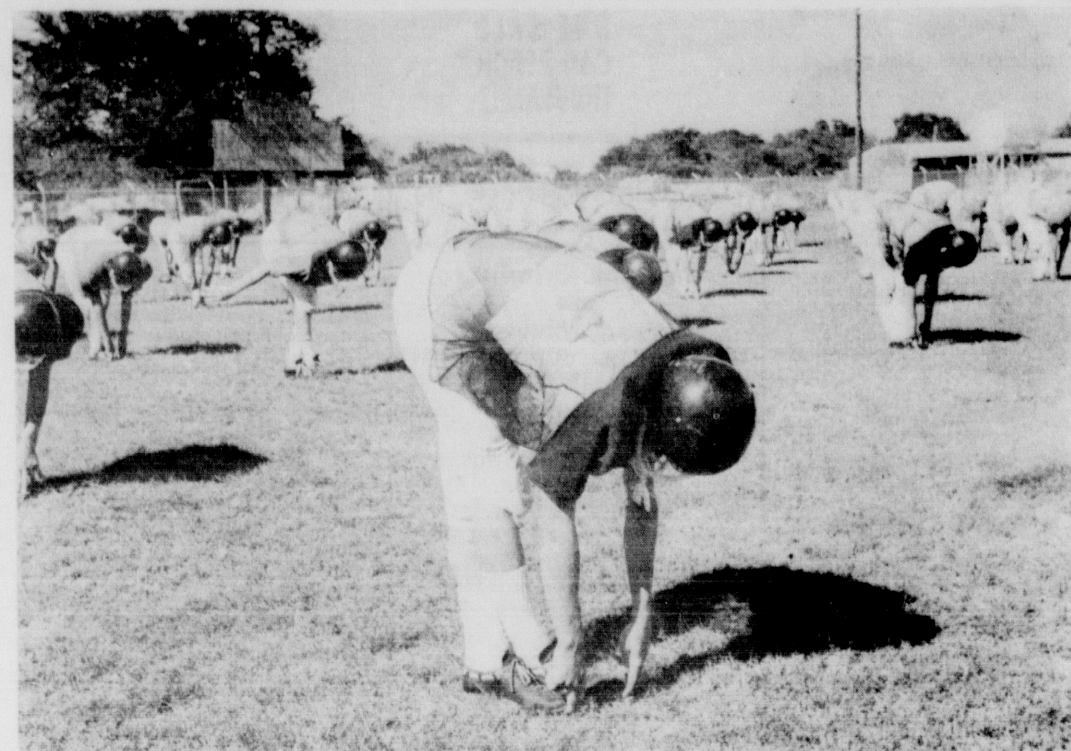

A second scrimmage is scheduled against Boerne at Boerne, on September 1. No time has been set for that scrimmage as yet.

The "B" Team will hold a scrimmage against Sabinal in Sabinal the next day, September 2.

Bohls seeks answers

Head Coach James Bohls expects tomorrow night's scrimmage with Southside of San Antonio to "give us some good answers" to questions of who to put in the top slot in several positions.

And there are a lot of those unanswered questions at this time. The quarterbacking honors are expected to be shared during the scrimmage among Prescott, Finger, and McCartney, with no clear favorite as yet. At fullback, Buescher and Campos are both being considered. Wingback is the most crowded position, with Kenny Weynand, Gene McAnelly, Willie Geuea, and Gordon Bohmfalk. Bobby Cox is a candidate for either tailback or wingback. Tailback now looks like Keith Ligon, then Braden.

Some players will have an edge due to past service, and several returning starters should lend the extra polish of experience to the 1972 team. Among those returning are Gary Walsh at tackle, Mike Saathoff and Gary Zinsmeyer at guard, Mechler at tight end, and Ligon at tailback.

Additional experience can be found at other positions where non-starters who saw action will return.

In the defensive ranks, things are still too unsettled to call at this time. "Several players will probably be expected to play both ways this season," reports Bohls. The team has been split since Tuesday into varsity and "B" units. Some 39 players have been retained on the varsity through the first scrimmage. "Some of these initial 39 will have to be cut at a future date," Bohls said.

Although some intra-squad scrimmages have been held in practices this week, no formal intra-squad game or scrimmage is slated before the Southside exercise.

The scrimmage will be held at Barry Field at 7:30 p. m. Friday. No admission will be charged.

Firearms course completed by seven

Several youngsters around the Hondo area know better how to handle firearms now that they have completed a course in this art.

Leslie A. Vance, chief instructor, says the course is essentially a combination of three recognized courses of the National Rifle Association: the Home Safety Course, Basic Rifle Marksmanship Course and the Hunter's Safety Course. Vance was assisted by Darwin Schrader.

The seven boys attended the course six class of two hours each, building a sound foundation in the fundamentals of firearms safety and marksmanship.

Completing the course were Douglas Cole, Chris Cole, Johnny Kalinowski, Keith Saathoff, Hank Muennink, Marc Westbrook and Martin Timmerman.

"Purpose of the Basic Rifle Marksmanship Course is actually two fold," Vance said.

"First, it provides a means whereby those interested in small arms training may be assured of the guidance of competent, reasonable instructors; and secondly, it provides standard courses of instruction based on accepted training methods, so that those given basic training as civilians will be better prepared to render service in defense of our nation in time of emergency."

Learn gun safety

The Home Safety Course gives a brief overview of the safety practices that are especially suited to the home environment. These include the proper storage of guns and ammunition, the proper cleaning procedures, the different firearms usually found in the home and the necessary safety procedures that are required for each type of firearm.

The NRA Hunter Safety Course is designed to give the knowledge and encourage the care that can avoid hunting accidents in the field and around camp. "It is not intended to produce either expert marksmen or full bag limits," Vance said.

The course presents such subjects as knowledge of guns, proper gun handling in the field, good shooting habits and the hunter's responsibilities--all essential to safe hunting.

This course was sponsored by the Medina County Gun Club and the next presentation will begin after school has started and the normal routine has been established.

Sheriff Reserves receive certificates after schools

The training has been hard and the hours long, but 29 members of the Medina County Sheriff Reserves received certificates August 9 rating them certified under law to hold their positions.

Chief Deputy of Medina County Floyd Williams, who is president of the group, presented the certificates to the 29 Reserves who have attended law enforcement classes totaling 70 hours and taken 10 hours of first aid.

Those receiving certificates included: HONDO--Capt. Ray Jones, Lt. Clarence Mumme Jr., Lt. Gregorio Pedroza, Sgt. George Gooding, Lupe Alvarez, Rogelio Carmona, Franklin Muennink; DEVINE--Capt. Manuel M. Rodriguez, Capt. Jim Lahon, Sgt. Concepcion Pompa, Sgt. Dennis C. Maloney, Secretary William (Bill) Wallace, Luther W. Straite, Robert Alexander, Jose S. Hernandez, Jose Rodriguez, Darrell DuBose, Gary B. Savage, John F. St. Ledger, William (Bill) Bain, Ruben Pompa, Ray Navarro Jr., Guadalupe Y. Hernandez, Leonalde Arche Jr.; CASTROVILLE--C. R. Zepeda; LA-COSTE--L. M. Pittman, Dionicio Duran; D'HANIS--Ventura Rodriguez; YANCEY--Treasurer James Grunewald.

The Reserves were organized July 14, 1971 and since that time have been busy helping in many ways. They put in more than 240 hours during the 1971 flood and have worked such big events as the St. Louis Day Celebration in Castroville and Holy Cross Church Homecoming in D'Hanis.

"They work at all times without pay," Williams says. "In addition to that they have purchased their own uniforms, guns and paid for transportation to the schooling and to all events they have worked."

Money raised so far for the Reserves comes from $1 per month membership dues. "But we actually need more money to buy radios and other equipment," Williams said.

He went on to explain that if any organization or group that has used the Reserves or anyone else, wishes to contribute they can do so by making contributions to the Medina County Sheriff Reserves.

Maj. Debner completes course

Army Reserve Major Donald W. Debner, son of Mrs. Catherine E. Debner, 241 El Monte, San Antonio, recently completed the final phase of the command and general staff officer course at the U. S. Army Command and General Staff College, Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas.

Maj. Debner was on the Commandant's list, which represents the upper 20 percent in academic standing.

The course is organized into ten phases and given over a five-year period either by correspondence or through the U. S. Army Reserve School System. The final two-week phase is conducted at Ft. Leavenworth.

The training is designed to prepare selected officers for responsible positions at division and support command levels. It also provides them with an understanding of the duties of corps and field Army General Staff officers, and of Army participation in joint and combined operations.

The Major received his Bachelor of Arts Degree from St. Mary's University at San Antonio in 1952.

He and his wife, Helen, live in Castroville. The Major is employed as position classification specialist with Kelly AFB.

at night and on weekends, Williams pointed out. "And I would like to express my appreciation for the dedication, the long hours and the expense these men have given so that Medina County can provide additional protection to residents in case of emergency or at other times of need."

State Fair of Texas plans for 'The Dazzling Thirties'

From October 7-22, the 1972 State Fair of Texas will provide additional momentum to the current craving for nostalgia with "The Dazzling Thirties", a 16-day entertainment extravaganza. One of this year's stellar attractions will be the national company production of the hit Broadway Musical, "No, No, Nanette", which will open the historic yet all new Music Hall. Additionally, negotiations are underway to present a free nightly revue in the recently renovated Band Shell headlining film stars, acts and bands of the 1930's. The glamour and glitter of Hollywood will be recalled with a Film Festival featuring great motion pictures of the decade in the auditorium of the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts. Nightly parades will spotlight floats depicting these block buster films.

In the Women's Building, daily fashion shows with apparel styled in the 30's mode will be presented by manufacturers along with previews of tomorrow's designs. A kaleidoscope of dance arts will dazzle audiences from the Cyclorama Stage. Winners in various homemaking competitions will be honored. The New Dimensions Pavilion will provide reverberations from "The Streamlined Decade" in a 30,000 square foot theme exhibition showing all popular aspects of life in the 30's. Its major attractions will be "Expositions of the 1930's", a presentation by the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts which is being prepared in New York for an eventual tour of all major art museums.

In addition to the memorabilia, visitors will enjoy traditional fair favorites including a comprehensive display of 1973 car models in the Automobile Building; unusual international exhibits in the World Exhibits Center; and the ever popular Dr. Pepper-State Fair of Texas Circus. Midway rides, carnival games and a galaxy of fun foods furnish a festive atmosphere.

Two national beef cattle shows, Brahman and Santa Gertrudis, headline this year's Pan-American Livestock Exposition. An assemblage of purebred dairy cattle, sheep, goats, swine and horses also will be displayed.

P.O.W.'s NEVER HAVE A NICE DAY ... says the bumper sticker held by Maureen Pope. Lynn Leinweber, Anna Buescher, and Maureen sell Prisoner of War bracelets on sidewalk in front of Graff's

POWs still in thought

Some Hondo young people are doing their best to bring home to area citizens the continuing tragedy of American Prisoners of War in Southeast Asia.

The group was on the sidewalks in front of Graff's Western and Men's Wear and the Dairy Queen on Thursday selling bracelets to commemorate some of the prisoners and men missing in action in North Vietnam.

For a $2.50 donation, a bracelet with the name and capture date of an American prisoner, as well as pins, letters to the North Vietnamese and bumper stickers were given to interested persons.

Proceeds of bracelet sales go to make more bracelets to further spread the interest and involvement of Americans in bringing home the prisoners.

Sponsor of the sale is V.L. V.A., Voices of Vital America, a non-profit student organization.

Fertilized pastures stay green

COLLEGE STATION--Adequately fertilized pastures are staying green and providing good quality grazing despite the strenuous summer-time temperatures.

"The additional plant food supplied by fertilization increases both the quality and quantity of most pasture grasses," contends Dr. Neal Pratt, agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Research by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has shown that fertilized grasses can produce three to four times as much forage with the same amount of rainfall as grasses which have not been fertilized. This is especially important during the hot Texas summer weather when rainfall is often limited."

Added bonuses from fertilization come in the form of more palatable and more nutritious growth of grasses. The improved nutrition is due to the higher level of protein usually found in fertilized grasses, points out the Texas A&M University specialist.

"Plant food encourages a healthy root system of grasses," says Pratt. "Such root systems are capable of obtaining both nutrients and moisture at greater depths than otherwise possible. Thus, an out-reaching plant is able to use moisture more efficiently and water losses are minimized."

Improved pastures and better grasses mean increased returns on livestock. And boosting livestock profits is a mighty good reason to fertilize, believes the agronomist.

For further information on pasture grasses and forage production, Pratt suggests that producers contact their local county extension office.

Rodgers attends State FB meet

Medina County Farm Bureau President R. A. Rodgers of Dunlay attended a statewide conference of county presidents August 9-11 in Austin.

Issues facing agriculture and new programs in Farm Bureau were discussed by the more than 125 county leaders in attendance. The presidents also heard a report on a farmer-rancher image study conducted recently in Dallas. According to the report, there is a "reservoir of good will" in metropolitan areas for agriculture in general.

Speakers included J. T. (Red) Woodson of Fannin County, president of the 130,000-member state farm organization; TFB Executive Director Warren Newberry of Waco; and Jack Angell, Chicago, American Farm Bureau Federation labor specialist.

State and national issues discussed included: farm labor, transportation, environmental pollution, financing public education, taxes, property rights, and control of fire ants, predatory animals and screwworms.

Farm Bureau programs under discussion included: public relations, policy development, income tax service, and Farm Bureau's commodity approach to farm problems.

The county leaders also heard a report on how agriculture fared in the recent special sessions of the 62nd Legislature as well as an analysis of the "characteristics" of the upcoming 63rd Legislature.
